

To whom it may concern at []:-

A big hello from one Bexhill to another!

I'm writing to you from the Town Council of Bexhill-on-Sea on the south coast of the UK.

[More about Bexhill in general?]

Plans are underway for our newly revived civic celebration, 'Bexhill Day', and we're reaching out to our namesake towns across the globe to ask if they'd like to join in the fun.

Would you be interested in collaborating with us in some small way for this year's event? Ideally, we would love to receive a message of greeting to include in our souvenir brochure, perhaps alongside an image or two of your own Bexhill.

I have included some pictures of Bexhill Day 2025 – which was a great success – along with our publicity material, to give you a flavour of what is always a hugely enjoyable day.

[History section – mention Bexhill Trust]

We're delighted to be able to reach out ahead of this year's event – and only sorry it has taken us so long to do so, since we have been incorporated as a Town Council for five years now. On which note, we would love to send you a copy of our newly published booklet A Civic History of Bexhill-on-Sea to add to your own civic library or archives.

We would, of course, be open to corresponding further going forward, and we wish your Bexhill a happy and prosperous future.

With warm wishes

Tom Clayton
